DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Crowell et al. (Crowell)(US 5,859,482). Crowell teaches fingers on a notched side (radially outer side) of spacer 152 circumferentially extend around a portion of the tube, and apply a force to the tube to engage and support to the tube 142. It is inherent that the fingers apply a force(crimp) tube when engaged to the tubes as shown in figure 6.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 11/25/02 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The broad limitations as set forth in the claims are inherently shown in Crowell. The examiner believes that the applicant is attempting to claim the finger 158 that extends around the tube so that the finger and the spacer circumferentially surrounds the tube (as shown in applicant's figure 6), however the claims are overbroadly claimed, such that Crowell reads on the current claims.
